5. Click the New Layer button () on the layers palette's far right edge (Figure 14-16, top) and choose Solid Color from the palette that appears. The Background layer appears on the Layers palette. You can see the Solid Color layer at the top of the stack. You can choose any color to create a new layer, but for this exercise you'll choose a color that is not associated with any object in the image, such as white or gray. It's more likely that you'll want to create a new layer that has some contrast to your subject or scene. If you already have a dozen layers or so open, choose Solid Color to create a new layer. 6. Click the Brush tool (B) at the bottom of the tools palette, then click a dark gray area in the image to apply that color to the layer. It appears in the foreground, indicating that the new layer is the foreground of the document. After making a solid color foreground layer, you see the painting tool options that appear in the options bar above the layers palette (Figure 14-16, bottom). 7. To indicate that this new layer belongs in the lower layer group, choose Layer from the Brush tool options, as shown here. At this point the Background layer is placed in the layers palette. Notice that only the Layer choices appear in the options bar. 8. Press the Backspace key to delete the Background layer. The Background layer is gone from the layers palette. You see the black hole in its place. Figure 14-16. Top: If you have a document open with many layers, it's easiest to create a new layer with the Solid Color tool. Just click a spot on the canvas that is neither on the subject nor in the background of the scene. Set this new layer's mode to Overlay, and it will automatically appear in the foreground of the document. After you've created the solid color layer, you can use the Brush tool to paint it. You can also choose Layer from the Brush tool options if the brush has already been loaded with a color. Bottom: If you need a new layer to act as the background of your image, you can create a new one with the Solid Color tool. 9. Choose a brush with some texture and paint a few more thick areas of color, such as

Open de oproep om terughoudendheid Amsterdam, 9 augustus 2020. In maart werd in Amsterdam een open protest gehouden tegen het toestaan van de heling van kandidaat-commissievoorzitter van de PVV. Daarmee wilde PVV'er Ismail Ibn Ahamad onder meer dat een paar broeikasgassen afgelost worden. De internationale media maakte zo van het gasdebat in Amsterdam een thema, en ook een politieke toonbeeld en een rode draad. Op dit moment lopen de argumenten open omtrent de methaanuitstoot. Tevens worden de richtlijnen aangepast. Nu ligt deze voor iedereen open: 1. De methaanuitstoot in woningen lager dan 1,5 en 10 niveaus deugt! 2. Op alle woningen met een streefbouw naar minder methaanvervuiling zal worden gekeken! 3. Op woningen waar de methaanvervuiling op kleine schaal is toegenomen, voorziet het toezicht een verdere verbetering. 4. Onroerende zaken maken bij de grenswaarde wat meer mee. 5. Op woningen die uitstellen van de slaapwoning, kan hij worden verhinderd. Een paar jaar geleden werd hij al aangekondigd. 6. Ook zou er gekeken worden naar de aanwezigheid van open veertuigen die de methaan uitstoten, en naar het vermijden dat er bepaalde sectoren zijn, vanwege het aantal inwoners. Het zou aanleiding kunnen zijn om nog meer woningen te sluiten voor de methaanuitstoot. 7. Dat wil zeggen, dat er nog eens een onderzoek wordt gedaan na

Tuesday, January 25, 2015 Recent memories? One of my favourite pages from the Scattered book that was filled with my memories of the small lake where I lived as a kid. I was forced to move from this lake when I was about 9 yrs old and after it, I rarely went near it. Well, it was the water that caught my attention and it was years later when I actually went back and had a look. It was interesting to see how the water had receded and how different the scene was. The person who was in the picture was my Mom's best friend, the late, great Mrs. Cole (Nellie). I remember she had a shiny gold tooth and she used to have everyone in the neighborhood over to watch TV with her and drink. Oh yes, I also remember the stinky milk that would be poured into a pitcher (I had no idea what it was called) and then drunk from, it was a real treat for me! We also have a few of these photos and stories. There is one that is in my Mom's photo album, that has been there for quite a few years and she has asked me to look at to see if she can get a picture of it. Then, at the Northlands, we have a few photos, but there is one where my Mom is sitting in a swing with a friend, I don't know who it is. Good memories. I hope you are all enjoying the snow. We are getting some tonight and again tomorrow. 2 comments: Oh, what pretty photos! And, how fun to go back to the lake and see things as they were. I remember our little lake from back home as well. The memories are so precious! Have a great day. We are looking forward to a long, snowy winter. A healthy calf can thank a healthy mother and milk and...dairy?
