At first it does not look good and is quite slow. In my case it took almost 12 minutes to complete a project I had started and was having trouble getting going. I gave it a second trial and it completed in a much more satisfactory 3.5 minutes. The music was high quality but too loud! So I added the following line to the lower, inside the SetWorks function, The 'N' and 'o' track need to be included to not have a complete track. I can't recall which order the N and o tracks need to be, but iirc that was the problem I was having. I have not test this yet so there may be more to add. I use to upload only project files that have been completed. The last time I tried to upload a file with the line that you noted it did not work. The completed project still did not upload. I have set the system administrator password many times and have tested many different web browsers with no result. I am unable to upload the file with the line that you noted because the completed project does not upload and I am unable to upload the project file to the site.
