Current version: 1.0.0Hakeem Olajuwon, the legendary forward for the Houston Rockets, is making history in a very big way today. And boy, he sure has made some people nervous. First, two of his former teammates have made fun of the 74-year-old on social media: Luis Scola also took this shot at Olajuwon's age: Then, teammate James Harden sent out this tweet to poke fun of Olajuwon: And finally, LeBron James tweeted out a play-by-play of Olajuwon's fumbling in an All-Star Game, and gave him some advice on how to recover from it: "You know you're in trouble if you're the one who can turn back the clock," James wrote in the tweet. "…Remember this moment. Olajuwon is our last great two-way player in the game, point and drive, defender and ball handler, scorer and passer. He was the best damn basketball player on the planet. This is the last time he'll beat you in this game." Olajuwon, who played in the 1976-77 All-Star Game as a Memphis Grizzly, responded to James with this tweet: Haha, Olajuwon had to throw a jab at James' reputation as a clutch player. To his credit, Olajuwon earned the nickname "Hakeem the Dream" early in his NBA career while playing for the Rockets, because he was able to orchestrate a game without the ball. In one memorable 1987 regular season game, Olajuwon scored 43 points in a win against the Lakers without a single shot coming from the basket. And his ability to make plays without the ball was so uncanny that, when he retired after the 1995-96

Uragun Features Key:

Multiple victory conditions: Reproduce, replicate, conquer, and get the hell off my planet. Plus, a few bonus victory mechanisms that are too numerous to mention.
Stunning pixel art with a visually striking mix of a colorful, beautiful tropical style that features geometric shapes with a soft, playful, yet still earthy authenticity. The terrain across the planets is procedurally generated and looks nothing like the same terrain and look!
Multiplayer and survival mode. Two humans trying to get as far away from each other as possible; you can kill each other or you can coexist with a respect for one another.
Play as a Mind, or as a force of nature on a physical body. Your mind can tap into the living energy of plants, capturing their essence to consume. Your body can insert itself into the living corpus of another being and assimilate their consciousness and energy to create your own new hybrid-being.
Numerous species of plants you can eat to acquire interesting new pills, of course.
7 gigantic planets that are not only varied and fun but as well visually stunning to see and surf.
Musical tracks produced by a team of very talented sound designers. Making music that either uplifts or lulls the player to dream about conquering the galaxy whilst munching on tropical mushrooms.

Written by the well known Ouya dev, Nick Suttner. The art style is beautiful. Creative style and originality are key. If you love strategy, wit and humor games in particular then this is a must own.

Life is a competition. Your wife, your daughter and 4 walls compete with you for the best life conditions. And you are working remotely. The government hasn't helped you at all. There are millions of people in quarantine, no one has good news, and people feel helpless. You need to issue QR codes to those people to let them go outside, but also, you need to keep your wife happy, your daughter busy and your walls clean. You really need to work remotely and issue codes to the people. For your daily issues, you have a limited budget. You can buy food or rent a house. Why do you need to buy a house? Because it is more comfortable to work in the house. You need to support the family, have a budget of 500$ per month. How can you use it? Why should you not try to make money on the side? The main task is keeping the family and the walls clean. Why do you need money to keep the family clean? Why can't you just give some soap to the wife and a vacuum cleaner to the daughter? Think a little, and you will be able to find solutions. Everybody needs to keep their family happy and clean. But here is the tricky part - you have to keep your family and the walls clean under the condition that the family budget is maintained. The budget of your family depends on the number of people in the house, the number of hours worked by your family members and most importantly, the number of issues that were solved. You can solve any issue on your computer with any app from the installed apps. About the game: Project Pagan: The Hoopla 2 The Hoopla 2 - a sequel to the "Project Pagan" game (Kiev, 2006). Similar in the sense that it is a platform game in the "Tomb Raider" series, for the players and the audience to choose what kind of adventure to deliver, what games to choose, puzzles and games of the same theme. The point is that the developers decided to create a series of games with a monthly release. And because the public did not exist, the players will get to meet. This story will take place in the culture of the ancient East, in the land of the Scythians, the father of the Greek. - Scythians are a noble and proud people. Without their efforts, Greece would not be so glorious. Overview of the game The Hoopla 2 game takes place in the mythological world of the ancient East. In the game you will have to pass through the entire history of the Greeks from the 1st period of time to the 5th. The main character is Clef, - a city of the province of Egypt, home to the city Clef, which has not been given an alias, - a beautiful ancient city, the home of the Greek culture. Ancient Egypt is the largest civilization on Earth, and you will see her the very ancient language of the Egyptians, which for a lot of people is the most ancient on the Earth. The Egyptian civilization is known as one of the first on the Earth, however, the slightest discoveries allow you to indicate that the Egyptian civilization developed much earlier than the one of Greece. The Egyptians, having mastered skills that have yet today, remained to the world. What's new:

Melrose Cafe was a New Zealand television and radio music talk show. It ran for over 20 years from its 1966 premiere until 1988. Mary Anne Hobbs hosted the show from 1966 to 1975 and Pat Anthony from 1975 to 1986. Over its twenty-year run the show provided support for the careers of a number of musicians, from folk music to rock musicians. It also provided encouragement to performers who were not yet viewed as marketable by the public. The audience at Melrose Cafe was eclectic, encompassing rockers, trad folkists, R&B-styled singers, pop-star weirdos and even balladeers. History Melrose cafe was founded in 1966 by Charles (Charlie) Winston, a radio pioneer who was also managing manager of The Queen's Hotel in Franz Josef Street, Auckland. Charlie wanted to bring youth-oriented and younger performers to Auckland by doing a show for teenagers based around folk and folk-rock songs. It was an instant hit and people in Auckland and New Zealand referred to it as the 'hillbilly cafe'. Charlie was originally live, but to cover up his voice, which he liked to echo, the show went electronic. The Melrose Cafe featured a number of new and emerging and folk artists who appeared on 'The Move', R&B numbers, ballads, all in the hope of becoming the next Bob Dylan or Timi Yuro. The youth counterculture praised the show. The Melrose Cafe's inside cabaret became a place where other less mainstream performers would play, such as blues musicians, garage-rockers, and a hip-hop unit until the cabaret space was taken out. Initially Charlie brought the cabaret to Auckland city's lunch hour, but in early 1975, the show was moved to the evening, and expanded to three hours, with Pat Anthony replacing Mary Anne Hobbs. Charlie died in 2001, making Patrick Anthony the sole remaining host of Melrose Cafe. Some notable people who took part in the show include Albert Wendt, John Michael; The Mumblefoots, Frenzal Rhomb and Rodan; multi-instrumentalist Peter and Andi Hegerty; blues singer Kris McDermott and her husband, Tony Shaw; George Coutts; Australian series Radionz impresario John Stone, and with its regional symphony and production, was Auckland's version of the Mercury Theatre, Melbourne. In 1966 John Michael was leading the blues band

It was all going smoothly in the pharmaceutical laboratory of Bristol. The Professor was leaving it with a secret he was not telling anyone. He was already going out when suddenly someone got into the lab and began emptying out the cabinets. The enemy was unknown and very effective, he took the professor and everything that he left the laboratory. The Professor had to collect all the different journals from the hotel, in order to open a path to his kidnapper. The enemy is not at the same hotel as the Professor, because he wanted to hide from the police. You can also find various versions of the prison key and the secret of the stone. The longer you've played the game, the more of the secrets you'll find. There are multiple different endings. We'd love to hear your feedback so you can tell us what you think! Have fun! Music It's always a pleasure creating music for our games. But this time, we were in a hurry, so we couldn't improve on the quality. Instead of adding it in later, we decided to release it with the game. Here's the soundtrack. You can find it in two versions: a main album and a DL version. You can use one of them or use the other with some of the DLC items. You can buy it on the soundtrack page or in the store. Thanks for reading and we hope you enjoy the game! Reviews A rapid-fire thriller. Windows, Mac and Linux versions. PC Gamer Suave, stylish and profoundly strange. 90% Indie-Games-Arena 8/10 Sorghum Spooky 2D adventure, and a well designed puzzle game with replayability. Our system requirements are very low. At the moment, we can confirm that the game should run on Windows 7/8/10 and OS X 10.9.4/10.10.5. It might also work on other systems, we don't know. If you have some trouble, let us know and give us a comment. Thanks for support! The game is only available on Steam at the moment. If you see it on other platforms, let us know by commenting the game and we'll add it to the Steam store description. Thanks! Recent changes
