WOODS, Ga. -- Bubba Watson won for the 12th time in the last 13 weeks on Sunday at Shoal Creek, the second most in the 18-year PGA Tour history behind Phil Mickelson. It was a day after Tiger Woods started working on a few things with a few coaches. Woods, who has gone through years of public comments and maneuvering leading up to major championships about his quest to break Jack Nicklaus' all-time Open Championship record, made the drive that led to his first shot and drilled a 270-yard shot to reach 10 under for the 10th time in 12 rounds. After hitting a wedge from 122 yards away, he had a three-putt on the 14th green. The only time Woods was in similar trouble and he got to 10 under was at the 2000 Masters. "I can't wait to get back out there," Woods said. "I feel like I'm ready to play." Somehow Woods has managed to arrive at majors feeling fresher and stronger than he has in several years. After missing five cuts in a row entering the Masters, he has made the cut in eight of his last nine starts. "For me, it's working, it's what I wanted to try to do," Woods said. "Work on things. 6d1f23a050
